Barolo Docg Terlo
Vigna Costa Grimaldi

A solid and refined Barolo

Vintage: 2021

Appellation: Barolo DOCG

Variety: Nebbiolo

Seasonal Trend:
A mild winter, with plenty of rainfall and even snow, provided excellent water reserves, which proved essential. Vegetative growth was regular and within the traditional timeframe. Spring began with a long period of good weather that continued throughout the summer, then continued regularly with little rainfall. The Nebbiolo harvest began in the last days of September and peaked in the second week of October. Quantitatively, we are experiencing an optimal and well-balanced production. In conclusion, despite the year being characterized by significant climatic fluctuations, with late frosts, thunderstorms, summer hailstorms, and even drought, we achieved surprising results in terms of grape quality, thanks to the moderate production.

Alcohol content: 14.50%

Total acidity: 5.09 g/l

Sugar (glucose + fructose): 0.70 g/l

Harvest period: October 11, 2021

Bottling period: July 10, 2024

Tasting notes:
Vibrant and fruity, offering notes of dark cherries, berries, spices, and dried flowers. Hints of bark are also present. Medium-bodied. Firm and refined, with a juicy mid-palate that leads to a linear finish.

Bottles produced (0.75 l): 5.053
